- Third party vendors, including Google and DoubleClick, use cookies to serve ads based on a visitor's prior visits to the EXEO Capital website.

Data Collection on use. Once a visitor visits this web site, a visitor is not anonymous to EXEO Capital. When visiting, each visitor provides data, which may include general business information, a contact numbers, a street address, and an email address. EXEO Capital may also record the IP address of a visitor when adding data.

Children. EXEO Capital does not intentionally gather personal information about visitors who are under the age of 13.

Data Collection from browser. EXEO Capital automatically receives and records information on EXEO Capital' server logs from the browser of a visitor, including an IP address, EXEO Capital cookie information, and the page requested. Each visitor should be aware that other web sites visited before entering the web site might place personal information within a URL of a visitor during a visit to it, and EXEO Capital has no control over such web sites. Accordingly, a subsequent web site that collects URL information may log some personal information.

Use

Communication and updates. EXEO Capital may send to a visitor administrative messages and email updates regarding the web site, or its services. In some cases, EXEO Capital may also send a visitor primarily promotional messages. A visitor can choose to opt-out of promotional messages.

Cookies. Personal information may be used to improve the EXEO Capital website. EXEO Capital may use cookies to save the session validators of a visitor on its browsers and hard drives, and may use cookies to provide a tailored web site. IP addresses also help EXEO Capital to diagnose problems with and to administer the web site.

Disclosure

Market Statistics. EXEO Capital may disclose aggregate statistics (information about the customer population in general terms) about the data to advertisers or business partners.

Third party suppliers and agents. EXEO Capital may need to provide data to a third party supplier to supply or provide specific services to a visitor (such as providing a quote or calling a visitor). Each third party supplier is required to only disclose or use the data to supply or provide the specific services requested.

Enforcement by law. EXEO Capital may disclose data if required or authorized: by law, or a subpoena or other judicial or administrative order by law; to protect the safety of any individual or the general public; to prevent violation of the agreement or the law, or the rights of EXEO Capital or any third party. An IP address may be disclosed to a third party: if the law or a legal process requires it; to protect the rights or property of EXEO Capital, a visitor, or the general public.

Change of ownership. If EXEO Capital undergoes a change in ownership, or a merger with, acquisition by, or sale of assets to, another entity, EXEO Capital may assign its rights to the data it processes to a successor, purchaser, or separate entity. EXEO Capital will notify each visitor of the transfer and the visitor may choose to modify its personal data at that time. If a visitor is concerned about its data migrating to a new owner, the user may deactivate or delete its account.

EXEO Capital employees. EXEO Capital may need to disclose data to its employees that require use of the data to do their jobs.

Abuse. EXEO Capital may disclose data to designated third parties to resolve or investigate abuse complaints. EXEO Capital may release data to assist in attempting to block an abusive visitor or complain to its internet service provider of an abusive visitor.

Security of data received

EXEO Capital uses security measures to protect the data under its control. All data is safe, secure, and available only to the visitor and those to whom visitor has granted permissions. In addition, the web site is hosted in a secure server environment that uses a firewall and other security measures to prevent interference or access from outside intruders.

Updating or removing data

A visitor may choose to correct or update the data they have submitted to EXEO Capital, by notifying EXEO Capital via our contact form.

Unauthorized use of information

Any unauthorized use of EXEO Capital information systems is a violation of the agreement and certain laws, including section 86 of the ECT Act. Such violations may subject the person to civil and criminal penalties.

Interception and monitoring

EXEO Capital may intercept, monitor, block, filter, read, delete, and any communication over its information system.

Third party websites

EXEO Capital is not responsible for, gives no warranties, nor makes any representations in respect of the privacy policies or practices of linked or any third party websites.

Crossborder transfer

EXEO Capital may transmit or transfer personal information outside the resident jurisdiction of the visitor and therefore across borders. Personal information may be processed by EXEO Capital in the country where it was collected as well as other countries where laws regarding processing of Personal Information may be less stringent.
